

Please DO NOT allow this bill to pass thru, especially since it would lessen the affect of Indiana's Telephone Privacy Act. Indiana's act has been very effective in eliminating nuisance sales and marketing calls from coming into my home. This is especially nice since most of those calls come in in the dinner-time and evening hours when we wish to spend time talking to whom WE wish, not at the whim of some telemarketer. Indiana's law has proven itself quite effective and worthy of retention. If other states wish to allow their citizens to be harrassed, let them pass their own laws. Please let the local state governments decide this issue for themselves, not the lobbyists and big business.
